Art exhibit on tour for breast cancer fundraising event

This important painting exhibition by Canadian and international artist/painter Antoine Gaber will be on tour from July 22, 2004 through February 28, 2005.

CANCUN - Canadian and international impressionist artist painter Antoine Gaber recently announced a unique fundraising strategy to benefit patients with breast cancer of the state of Quintana Roo, Mexico. Gaber will contribute an important percentage of the sales of his paintings from his exhibition tour in Mexico to a breast cancer clinical research charity of the region of Quintana Roo from July 22, 2004, until February 28, 2005.

As one of Canada's chosen artists, Gaber displayed his work at one of the most prestigious European exhibitions, the Biennale Internazionale dell'Arte Contemporanea, in Florence, Italy, in December 2003, and was awarded the prestigious prize of "Lorenzo il Magnifico" by the President of the Biennale in recognition of his artistic career.

Gaber met the renowned historian and art critic from Mexico, Professor Matty Roca, who was one of the art critics that commented on Gaber's art during the Biennale. In January 2004, Prof Roca invited Gaber to exhibit in Mexico his artwork on a six-stop art exhibition tour that will last seven months. Gaber accepted the invitation and used that opportunity to raise funds in support of breast cancer research for patients from the state of Quintana Roo, Mexico. For several years, Gaber, with his art, has supported many important charities in the fight against cancer, liver disease, and HIV/AIDS.

As a Premiere exhibition of his Tour, Gaber worked in collaboration with the University of Miami School of Medicine, Sylvester Comprehensive Cancer Center to inaugurate his first private showing during the Second Intramerican Breast Cancer Conference held in Cancun from July 21-24, 2004. Over 300 breast cancer specialists from Mexico, U.S. and Canada, will attend this important scientific meeting, which will feature presentations from over 28 international guest speakers Faculty Members from several Countries (Belgium, Canada, Chile, France, Mexico, Spain, and U.S.).

As his talent deepens and matures, Antoine Gaber ceaselessly strives to enrich his understanding and expression of the world around him. An increasing presence on the world's artistic stage is indicative of the piercing vision that guides and shapes Gaber's ever-evolving oeuvre.

The Antoine Gaber Exhibition Tour will start in the City of Cancun, Mexico, on July 22, 2004 and will conclude on February 28, 2005, in Cozumel, Mexico. For more infoation about the artist you can visit his art site at: www.antoine-gaber.com
